Sand Castle Contest Set For Sept. 25

Once again, the Monterey Bay Chapter of the American Institute of Architects will sponsor Carmel's sand creativity competition—the Great Carmel Sand Castle Contest. Grand Sand Marshal Donald Brown announces that the annual event, this year, will be held on September 25 when a high tide starts receding at 9:32 a.m. From that time until judging starts at 2 p. m., Carmel Beach will offer prime conditions for the construction of wondrous sand creations—miniscule to gigantic—and all sizes in between.

Headed by Chief Judge Boris V. Jacobowsky, eight judges will trudge up and down the beach selecting structures worthy of awards. All entrants, from tots to totterers, must register at the official table starting at noon so that their efforts may be eligible for the judges' scrutiny.

Well behaved dogs will be allowed in the sand castle contest area but no canine sand structures, no matter how artistic or unusual, will be considered for awards.

Further details and classifications will be given in this paper next week. Indications are, however, that there will be a competition category for everyone old enough to dig and pile sand no matter what shape it forms. Of course, master sand castle builders will come prepared with detailed plans, but they won't have any more gratification for their creative efforts than will the free form, free for all sand pilers, but they probably will garner more awards.

Any creativity that might get out of hand will be handled by Gene Takigawa, David Smith, Eddie Fischer and Jim Brady, the sand castle marshals. So far, marshals have had nothing to do in this line, except look important and enjoy themselves. No doubt this happy atmosphere will prevail again this year—but in case some frustrated sand architect should go berserk—they'll be prepared.

CARMEL HIGH FOOTBALL JAMBOREE

Carmel High School's 1966 football season got off to a rousing start last Saturday afternoon with a jamboree including varsity, junior varsity and light-weight teams. Following the play, the Boosters Club put on a fund raising barbecue which netted $600, one-tenth of the amount needed to finance the club's

Trustees Deal With Dropouts, Price Of Milk

Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District, last night, authorized the district to enter into an agreement with the Pacific Grove Unified School District for a continuation school program for dropout students, approved policies and procedures for meals for needy children and voted in favor of a feasibility study concerning co-sponsorship through the adult education school of a Forest Theater workshop proposed by the Carmel Arts Commission. Faced with rising costs and a 10% drop in state reimbursement for the school milk program, they also agreed to increase the price of milk to students.

Nation's First Lady Arrives Here Wednesday To Dedicate Highway

Next week is National Highway Week and Monterey County's pioneering efforts in the preservation of highway beauty will be signally recognized when Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the President of the United States, comes here on Wednesday to dedicate Highway One south of Carmel as the first unit in the California Scenic Highway System. State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel, a recognized national leader in the areas of conservation and beautification, will be Mrs. Johnson's official escort during her visit.

Monterey County's efforts to preserve the matchless beauty of the coast road south of Carmel date back to a proposal of Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson of Point Lobos for a linear national parkway. The county's planning staff made studies for this project.

Although the parkway proposal later was abandoned in favor of a state scenic highway system, the county's preliminary studies were not wasted. They were of value to Nathaniel Owings of Big Sur when he aided the county in framing a master plan for the coastal area. This plan led to appropriate county zoning to protect the scenic beauty of Monterey County's coastline.

The county's scenic preservation planning also served as a basis when Senator Farr sponsored a

Oust Fire Chief

The employment of J. Robert Baker, Carmel's fire chief since last October, was terminated early this morning by the city council following public and secret council sessions during which members of the fire department, both volunteer and paid, expressed opinions on Baker's conduct as fire chief. While the firemen were in the city hall, one fire engine and the Red Cross ambulance were parked outside and firemen carried emergency gear into the council chambers.

Immediately before the council's public statement of dismissal was read by City Administrator Hugh Bayless, Baker was summoned by the council to a session behind closed doors which lasted nine minutes. When he emerged, he stated, "I can't say a thing until they do," when questioned by a member of the press.

The council statement terminated Baker's service to the city "immediately" and recognized Assistant Fire Chief James R. Bellvial as being in charge of the fire department pending the selection of another fire chief.

The council's ousting of the fire chief was triggered by an August 29 report to the council prepared by five heads of other city departments. This document was signed by Director of Planning Floyd Adams, Superintendent of Streets William L. Askew Jr., City Administrator Hugh Bayless, Chief Building Inspector Frederick R. Cunningham and Chief of Police Clyde Klummann. All of the signers, the report stated, "Until now have assumed that the city departments formed a team, based on mutual trust and respect, and dedicated to the sole purpose of serving the citizens of Carmel under the direction of the city council."

Deviations from this policy had resulted from the fact that "the present fire chief has been allowed unprecedented autonomy by the city council in the scope of his operations and his expenditure of city funds—beyond that authorized by our municipal code and beyond the autonomy permitted to any other department head," was another statement of the report.

The five men asked the council for a clarification of the degree to which they should: (1) be required to conform to the municipal code, particularly pertaining to purchasing procedures and the expenditure of public funds; (2) whether

'Never Too Late' Gives Audiences At Studio An Evening Of Laughter

When the catalyst of an unplanned birth is injected into the family life of a couple after a lapse of 20 childless years, reactions are both negative and positive, but definitely amusing to all but the amazed parents and their married only daughter and her husband. This is the situation which keeps audiences at the Studio Theatre in an almost constant state of mirth as the plot of "Never Too Late" unfolds.

Sam and Edie Karas, as the non-plussed parents, Harry and Edith Lambert, capably set the pace for the merriment and earn deserved plaudits for their competent interpretation of roles which could be just ridiculous if not handled with sensitivity.

Sydney Flynn, as their attractive but spoiled daughter, Kate, charmingly portrays a young lady verging at times on hysterics as she uses her wits to escape the unwanted responsibilities thrust upon her by her mother's untimely pregnancy. The route she chooses to evade unexpectedly becoming the family housekeeper is somewhat startling to her young husband, Charlie, played by Roger Parkes. However, he meets his challenges in more ways than one, and, if appearing somewhat unsure in his debut as an actor last weekend, gives promise of conquering this uncertainty as the run of "Never Too Late" continues.

Sally Richmond, as Grace Kimbrough, the incentive friend of the surprised mother, delivers her quips and dictums with titillating aplomb and adds more merriment to the evening. And then there's Mayor Crane, played by Ed Shimbolt, master of the mightiest laugh seen on Peninsula stages for many a year. He is a true find for local little theatre groups.

Webber Buckham as Mr. Foley and Martin Merrick in the role of a policeman round out the capable cast of "Never Too Late."

Michael Keller, director of the Summer Arthur Long comedy, deftly set timing so that hilarious lines are seldom missed and the actors maneuver on stage to give impetus to the many comic and few serious situations.

Set and lighting by Bob Evans are effective without distracting from stage action. Edie Donahoe and Sean Tracy, in charge of properties, have ingeniously acquired major items of bathroom plumbing that can be heaved about by actors on the Studio's tiny stage in some of the mirthful action.

Taken as a whole, the Studio's "Never Too Late" provides an evening of lighthearted fun as five scenes unfold the story of a pompous middle-aged man and his wife amusingly jolted out of the set routine of their lives with some

TENSE MOMENT AT STUDIO

"How could you?" queries Edie Lambert after her husband, Harry, returns from a night on the town to tell their neighbor, the Mayor, to "Go fry an egg!" This is just one of the results of unanticipated and belated parenthood which provokes laughter during "Never Too Late," current play at the Studio Theatre. Edie and Sam Karas, man and wife offstage, act the same relationship onstage.

Full Houses Thoroughly Enjoyed White Oaks Opera And Concert

BY WALTER J. ROTH

As an example of audience acceptance of something really fine, we have White Oaks Theatre's presentation this past weekend of "Così fan Tutte," Mozart's "opera buffa."

The four sold out performances were enthusiastically applauded—and rightly so.

In the setting of White Oak's unique building with fascinating scenery, lighting, and sound, the talented company and chorus, by the expert guidance of Chris Nance and aided by his 30-piece orchestra—sembled from instrumentalists amazing results, almost all humorous.

For those who desire, dinner is served before the play opens at 8:30 p.m. Chef Walter Jones prepares a selection of mouth-watering entrees, including roast beef. The food is eaten at small tables in the theatre and the new chairs at the Studio are just turned toward the stage when the play starts.

Judging by soldout performances last weekend, reservations should be made by those desiring to attend "Never Too Late" on coming, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings until mid-October. M.L.

Carmel is so lavishly endowed with the good things of life that it naturally attracts talented people. We had fresh proof at auditions a few days ago when it became our happy problem to choose from an embarrassment of riches in casting "The Little Foxes." A gripping experience is ahead when this distinguished drama opens six weeks from now. Meanwhile our current tid-bit is the screamingly funny "Never Too Late" which you may enjoy in combination with our roast beef, corned beef or baked ham dinner for $5.50 or by itself for $2.75 any Friday, Saturday or Sunday. And if you are in the mood for a satisfying inexpensive lunch, come to the Studio between 11:30 and 2:30 any day but Monday for Walter's special.

STATE COMMISSION MEETS HERE FRIDAY

Members of the California Arts Commission will meet in all-day session tomorrow at the Monterey County Fairgrounds, according to State Senator Fred S. Farr, a commission member. Sessions will start at 9:30 a.m. A number of leisure activities have been planned so that commissioners may meet members of local arts groups on an informal basis.

'The Best Man' Opens Tomorrow At Circle Theatre

The American political scene is crisply viewed in The Circle Theatre's next attraction, "The Best Man," that opens tomorrow evening at 8:30 p.m. and will play through seven weekends.

Written by Gore Vidal, "The Best Man" combines comedy, satire, drama, and suspense—all wrapped in the clanging tinsel of America's favorite pastime—politics. The action of the play is set in the Philadelphia hotel suites of two leading contenders for the Presidential nomination at a national convention. It is a vivid chronicle of the "behind the scenes in-fighting" of the aspirants and their backers.

All the excitement and hullabaloo of a national political convention are combined with dramatic conflict and humor in, "The Best Man." Director Norman McPhee has assembled new faces and fresh talent for this timely play. Reservations may be made by telephoning 624-2669.

We publish this Guide as a service to our readers to help them decide what movies to see. This information is supplied to the Pine Cone by The Green Sheet and other sources.

THE SPY WHO CAME IN FROM THE COLD (Paramount). Based on the celebrated and best-selling novel of John le Carre. "The Spy" is a refreshing entry into the craze of spy films because it goes beyond anything screened before—it treats the very real and very undercover death-struggles with an open and revealing eye. (Adults, mature young people).

meaning that given the occasion their sweethearts will be unfaithful. With the connivance of the ladies' maid, Despina, delightfully played by Shelia Jo White, Doug Stobie, playing the crafty old bachelor, Don Alfonso, hatches a plot into which the two lovers, Ed Crafts as Guglielmo, and Richard Veale as Ferrando, trap the two sisters, Emily Lawhead playing Fiordiligi and Tracy Carr as Dora-bella, to the enjoyment of the audience, the discomfiture of the ladies, and, at times, also of the two young lovers betrothed to the two ladies. But all ends happily for everyone in due time.

Accolades must go not only to the gifted players, but also to the expert direction of Chris Nance, the tuneful orchestra, the bewitching ladies and men in their beautiful costumes expertly designed and executed by Lon Mulderick and Corliss Nickerson.

The full measure of success enjoyed by the four performances of "Così" make us all wish for more of this and similar efforts on the part of White Oaks, a training center for the performing arts, which seems to have passed its adolescent stage and is now thoroughly mature as the past summer season has so well demonstrated.

SUNDAY CONCERT

An enthusiastic audience which filled the theatre apparently enjoyed to the full the presentation on Sunday afternoon of the Concert of Chamber Music under the capable guidance of Chris Nance, associate professor of opera at Louisiana State University and, for the fifth year, musical director of the White Oaks summer-musical season.

Using at first only eight instruments—two brass and six wind—Nance led his talented group through the maze of Mozart's Serenade in No. 12 Minor K 388. This was followed by the somewhat more imposing work by Stravinsky for which the conductor had selected 15 players—six violins, two cellos and two bass violi plus two French horns, a bassoon, a flute and a clarinet. These he wove into a tuneful rendition of the Concerto in E flat "Dumbarton Oaks".

For the final selection, Brahms Serenade No. 2 A Major Op. 16, Nance chose 18 instruments of which eight were strings the remaining ten winds—an interesting assembly which did full justice to the Serenade judging by the audience which required the conductor to return to the podium three times to acknowledge sustained applause.

Surely Nance, White Oaks and the talented musicians are to be complimented for a delightful contribution to the musical offerings on the Peninsula.

Letter To Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

The death of Mrs. Edna Stenersen, personnel chairman and second vice president of the board of directors of the Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was a shock and grief to her fellow board members and volunteer workers of the SPCA. The time, effort, enthusiasm and good sense she gave unstintingly to the organization was an inspiration. She will be sadly missed and remembered with great affection. To her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Groves, we offer our heartfelt and sorrowful sympathy.

Enjoy reading your newsy paper very much. Your September 1 issue had, on the front page, a beautiful picture titled Carmel Beach. I would like to have a black and white glossy photo of it. Any size will do. The reason is that I wrote a song titled "Carmel-By-The-Sea" and your Carmel Beach photo would look good printed on the sheet music which I am publishing soon. Could I have permission to use it? I hope so!

Writers Who Have Lived in Carmel

BY HERBERT HERON

WILLIAM ROSE BENET

William Rose Benet—poet, critic, novelist, was born February 2, 1886, at Fort Hamilton, New York Harbor. He was 12 years older than his brother, Stephen Vincent Benet. There was one sister, Laura Benet. All three were well known writers.

Bill Benet graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University in 1907. He came to Carmel in the spring of 1909. He and Sinclair Lewis batched together in the Foster Cottage on Monte Verde Street at Eighth Avenue.

He married Teresa Frances Thompson, sister of Kathleen Norris, in 1912. They had three children, who grew up with the Norris family. In 1923 Benet married Eleanor Wylie, poet and novelist. After her untimely death he married Lora Baxter, well known in the theatre. They were divorced. In 1941 he married Marjorie Flack, author of children's books.

With Henry Seidel Canby and Christopher Morley he started the Literary Review of the New York Evening Post. In 1924 this group organized the Saturday Review of Literature, of which Benet was poetry critic for many years. Now called simply the Saturday Review, this periodical has a wide influence in literature, theatre, music, and the arts of painting, sculpture, dance and architecture.

As associate editor of the Century Magazine for seven years Benet came in contact with fine writers and their work as a young man, even before the days of the New York Post and the Saturday Review. He was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry in 1942.

William Rose Benet died in New York City on May 4, 1950. His published books, largely poetry, are Merchants from Cathay, 1913; The Falconer of God and other poems, 1914; The Great White Wall, 1916; Burglar of the Zodiac and other Poems, 1918; Perpetual Light, 1919; Moons of Grandeur, 1920; The First Person Singular, 1922; Man Possessed, 1927; Wild Gossings, 1927; The Flying King of Kurio, 1928; Rip Tide, 1932.

Starry Harness, 1933; Golden Fleece, 1935; With Wings as Eagles, 1940; Air Ballads, 1940; Adolphus the Adopted Dolphin (with Marjorie Flack), 1941; The Dust Which is God, 1941; Day of Deliverance, 1944; Stairway of Surprise, 1947; Timothy's Angels, 1947; Poetry Package, 1950; Spirit of the Scene, 1950.

In addition to his own work, he edited the following: Twentieth Century Poetry (with John Drinkwater and Henry Seidel Canby), 1929; The Oxford Anthology of American Literature (with Norman Pearson), 1938; Poetry of Freedom (with Norman Cousins), 1945; Anthology of Famous English and American Poems (with Conrad Aiken), 1945; The Reader's Encyclopedia (with Christopher Morley), 1948.

Mr. Danielson

Conrad David Danielson, 72, died early Tuesday morning after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home on Fourth Avenue between Torres and Santa Fe streets.

A native of Pennsylvania, he was a resident of Carmel for the past three years and, with his wife, Alice, formerly made his home in San Francisco. Mr. Danielson was a retired employe of Livingston Bros. department store in that city.

In addition to his wife, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Agda Smith, Mrs. Lillie Stewart and Mrs. Edith Cardoza, all of San Jose.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tonight at the Paul Funeral Chapel and a requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Carmel Mission Basilica. Interment will follow at El Carmelo Cemetery in Pacific Grove.

Edna Stenersen

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna R. Stenersen, who died Monday in a local hospital after a brief illness, were held yesterday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

Born in London, England, she was a resident of Carmel for the past eight years, making her home with a sister, Mrs. Frank (May) Groves.

Mrs. Stenersen was a dedicated volunteer in the work of the Monterey County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and was personnel chairman and second vice president of that organization. She gave unstintingly of her time and effort to the operation of its fund-raising shop in Carmel, also was active in the American Red Cross.

With her husband, the late John Stenersen, she was a prisoner of the Japanese in the Stanley concentration camp in Hong Kong during World War II.

In addition to her sister, Mrs. Stenersen leaves a brother, Samuel John Hoare of Sussex, England.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mrs. Stenersen may do so through donations to the SPCA, 2099 David Avenue, Monterey, or to the charity of their choice.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

VACATION'S OVER!

As Indian Summer began to warm the days, college-age Carmelites turned toward the future, some to continue their education, some to defer it in favor of work. Still others mark time doing both while awaiting orders to report for service with our armed forces. The Pine Cone learned of plans of a few Carmel High School June graduates not mentioned in previous editions.

Among those who have enrolled at Monterey Peninsula College are Tony Laiolo, Vikki Brinsmead, Debbie Smith, Susie Springer, Beverly Bray, Fred Seely, Tim Head (who was accepted at UC Santa Barbara but chose MPC and hopes to transfer to UC Santa Cruz) and Patsy Porter. Patsy's sister, Nancy, who was married in April to Lin Eldridge of Palm Springs, is at UC Riverside.

Also, Pam Baldwin, Patsy Smith, Alice Macahilig, Michele Sidone, Salli Holbrook, Melinda Colvin, Marilyn Kodani, Linda Gulbranson (who plans to transfer to Cal Poly), Bill Hagn, Gisela Lieb, Anne Mewhirter, Mary Ann Potiris, Kim Reading, Nancy Selander, Linda Spring, Mary Weatherford, Carolyn Updike, Kathleen Maccagno, John Sullivan, Morris Jones and Alan McEwen.

Roger Fonseca, a high honors graduate, is entering Occidental College, as is his twin brother, Bob. Starting at the same college are Susan Rzeppa, high honors graduate and 1966 class valedictorian; Geoff Cocks, Jane Heider, Sharon Smith. Returning there are Larry Sheingold, Robin Smith and Erica Steinberger.

Gaylord Swim and Ron Fukagawa are attending Pomona; Tim Hall, Diablo Junior College; Dave Partridge, UC San Diego; Larry Little, Golden Gate College; Dan Albert, Whittier; Joanne Thompson enters school in Santa Barbara; and Thomas Arima chose Stanford.

Van Yates is enthusiastic about his new school, Colorado College in Colorado Springs; Dennis Jones is among those working—for Monterey County—until he hears from the draft board. Gerry and John Montgomery entered the University of the Pacific; Mary Louise Robotti is at San Francisco State College to study nursing.

Howard "Bucky" Bucquet left this week for the American School in Lugano, Switzerland; Debbie Whittlesey will be at Mills College; Susie Draper is in residence at Dominican College at San Rafael (her brother, Mike, a graduate of the University of Arizona, will be job-hunting in San Francisco this fall).

Craig Cunningham goes to Chico State College, Marge Decker to Dominican College, Judy Dukes to Barnham's Art School in Florida, Pam Martin to the University of New Mexico. Nancy Culin will train for a nursing career in San Jose, and Bruce Perry is studying at a Michigan university. Terrie Lee has entered Hartnell College in Salinas, Dennis Hanshaw, the University of Hawaii.

San Jose State College is the choice of Gayle Ward and Marilyn Lane. Orley Mae White enters UC Davis with classmate Nancy Thompson, who was named the outstanding student of her class.

Rita Belvail, a graduate of Junipero Memorial High School, has chosen UCLA.

Dave Erickson, one of the class's two salutatorians and one of its highest honors students, is at Massachusetts Institute of Technology as the Northern California Regional Scholar of that institution. It is of interest that David is the second Carmel High School student so honored, the first having been Doug McCaulay, in 1958, who studied at Stanford. The MIT regional scholarships are limited to 25 students in the nation annually.

Fifty Happy Years

On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson Sr. observed their golden wedding anniversary while visiting their daughter, Ruth, and her husband, William C. Homer, in Fayetteville, New York. With them for the happy occasion were their grandchildren, the Homers' two daughters and son.

Other grandchildren will join in a belated celebration soon when family members in Carmel gather to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, who returned last night after a month in the East.

Mr. Thompson will also receive best wishes for many happy years in the future from members of the Carmel High 12 Club, of which he has just been elected secretary-treasurer after serving as president the past year.

Elizabeth Hood Christened

Elizabeth Anne Hood, who was born on June 10 and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hood of Carmel, was christened on the morning of August 14 at All Saints' Episcopal Church. Officiating at the ceremony were the Reverend David Hill, the Reverend Peter Farmer, Gospler, and the Reverend Lloyd Johnston, Lector. The baby's godparents are Mr. E. Bidle Heg of La Jolla and Mrs. James Fleming of Carmel.

Elizabeth Anne was christened in a gown first worn 110 years ago by a member of the Dundas family in Carron Hall, Scotland.

Mrs. Margaret Boyer Chester traveled from North Hollywood to see her granddaughter christened. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fleming of Milwaukie, Wisconsin, Mrs. Olive Dundas, James Fleming, Doris Brand, Mrs. Grace Fontes and Mrs. Gladys Fox, all of Carmel. At the reception which followed at the Hoods' home, they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Helms.

Celebration in Lakeport

Raleigh and Marge Belvail, with their daughters Rita and Jane, traveled to Lakeport last weekend to help Raleigh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Belvail, celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary. Jack Belvail and his family, also now residents of Lake County, were there to offer congratulations.

It was a great time for reminiscing—the senior Belvais were very much a part of Carmel from 1919 or 1920 until the early '50s. The only shadow on the gathering was the absence of the Raleigh Belvail's son, Jim, serving with the U. S. Marines in Viet Nam.

Captain Torrey Is Here

Captain Philip H. Torrey III (USMC) and Mrs. Torrey are now in Pebble Beach to visit his mother, Mrs. F. Gordon Campbell, and Mr. Campbell.

In July of last year, just two weeks after his marriage to the former Jean Cray of San Francisco, the Marine officer, then a lieutenant, left for duty in Viet Nam. There he was promoted in the field to command his own company after being wounded during an attack on the command post. The telegram which announced this news to his mother and wife was none the less alarming because it elaborated that he had been "treated in the field and returned to duty."

After his 45-day leave, Captain Torrey will report for duty at El Toro Marine Air Station in Southern California. While here, he will also have a chance to reminisce with his grandfather, Captain Dallas C. Laizure (USN Ret.).

News Of Tim Sloat

Second Lieutenant Timothy J. Sloat (USMC), son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Emery Sloat of Carmel, is on active duty with the First Battalion First Marine Regiment, Third Marine Division, near Da Nang, Viet Nam, which participated in Operation "Hastings."

Under the circumstances, plans for Tim's marriage to Gina Kawanakoa of Hawaii, a former Carmel resident, are indefinite.

Both the Marine officer and his fiancée are Carmel High School graduates. He received his B.A. from UC Berkeley and was enrolled in graduated studies at San Jose State College before entering service.

Hawaiian Holiday For Bart

Bart Blout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Blout, returned this week from a six-week stay in Hawaii and will soon be off again to resume his studies at the University of Oregon, where he is a sociology major. His sister, Beverly, returns to the Pi Beta Phi sorority house at UCLA for her sophomore year. Belinda, his younger sister, is in her second year at Carmel High.

Assumed New Command

Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Broadbuss has assumed command of Kirk Army Hospital at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland. Colonel Broadbuss, after duty in Japan, served at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C., and Camp Pickett, Virginia, before going to Germany as a member of the staff of the Fifth General Hospital in Stuttgart. During his tour there, he became a diplomat of the American Board of Psychiatry. He later was assigned as division surgeon, First Infantry Division, at Fort Riley, Kansas, and became senior medical advisor, Second Republic of Korea Army in Taegu in 1961. He comes to his present post after further study and duty in the United States.

The new commanding officer and his wife, who are the parents of five children, reside on post. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Broadbuss, former Carmel residents, who now make their home in Canterbury Woods, Pacific Grove.

Harold Johnson Overseas

Private Harold Johnson was on duty in Viet Nam last week following leave which he spent here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Johnson, of Carmel Valley. A Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College graduate, he recently completed a 12-week communication center specialist course at the Army Southeastern Signal School at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

Young Pianist in L. A.

Robert Tarbox, talented young pianist who graduated from Carmel High School in June, has been accepted as a scholarship student at the conservatory of music of the California Institute of the Arts in Los Angeles. The choice was not an easy one for Bob—he was offered two other scholarships, one from Monterey Peninsula College.

Mrs. Tarbox, whose husband, Lieutenant Colonel Henry A. Tarbox, is stationed in San Antonio, Texas, has remained in Carmel so that her children could continue their schooling here. The couple's other son, Greg, is an eighth grader at Middle School and their daughter, Beth, will graduate from Monterey Peninsula College in January, so Mrs. Tarbox is looking forward to rejoining her husband next winter.

Computer Chooses Roommate

It seems that computers even choose one's college roommate these days—at least at Cal Poly, where Carmel High June graduates Jinx Snow and Donna Carter are enrolling as freshmen. It shouldn't take a computer to figure out that Jinx, an accomplished equestrienne with numerous awards to her credit, might enjoy the companionship of a girl with similar interests. At any rate, the computer assigned her a roommate with a horse, though it didn't designate the horse's quarters.

Jinx's father, Lieutenant Colonel Harold E. Snow, will be leaving for duty in France in November, to be joined by his wife, Jean, who is the local Welcome Wagon hostess.

Pebble Beach Golf

Bill Higgins of San Leandro played a 36-39 for a 75 Wednesday in the second round of the 1966 California Seniors Golf Association Championships at Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Anderson Borthwick of San Diego who won in 1961, 1964 and 1965 is trailing with a 41-39 totaling 80. Frank Thill of Tujunga and Charles Williams of San Jose tied for second position with 77s.

The 61st Annual Northern California Golf Association Amateur Championships are under way at Spyglass Hill Golf Course in Pebble Beach. Bob Smith, who is a scratch player from Sacramento, played the course in 72 Tuesday, which tied the course record made by Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael on Monday. Smith's 72 gave him a 36 hole medal score of 145 but Cerrudo had a 78 and couldn't make it with his total 150. Monterey Peninsula players who qualified were Ian Kinnear 169, Tim Grant 171, Mike Logan 160, George Rauch 165, Ed Haber 166 and Warner Keeley 165.

BETSY SECCOMBE MARRIED

Beneath the fragrant coastal redwoods, the former Elizabeth Burdon Seccombe and her husband, the Reverend Samuel Earl Smith, cut a traditional cake at the al fresco luncheon which followed their wedding at the Santa Lucia Chapel in Big Sur on Labor Day. The Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church was celebrant of the noon nuptial eucharist, assisted by the Reverend Peter Farmer and the Reverend Lloyd Johnston. Father Hill then performed the couple's marriage at the outdoor chapel under the towering trees.

Betsy, as she is known to many Carmelites, was given in marriage by her father, the Reverend Alfred Burdon Seccombe, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek and former rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church in Carmel.

The informal dress of heavy white cotton lace which the bride wore was designed by herself and Mrs. Seccombe. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of yellow roses.

Mrs. Benson Brown (Meg Seccombe) of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, was her sister's matron of honor. Donald Smith of Norwalk, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sterling Smith of Leucadia, and their younger son, James, former Carmel residents, were present at the ceremony, as was the Reverend Mr. Smith's sister-in-law, Mrs. Donald Smith. Also attending were the bride's brothers, William Tyson and Alfred Fowler Seccombe; her grandmother, Mrs. John Armistead Welbourn of Leesburg, Virginia; and her brother-in-law, Professor Benson Brown. Other guests were faculty and staff members of the York School for Boys, with their families, and a few close friends of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Welbourn, a frequent Carmel visitor, was hostess at a dinner for the bridal party at Pine Inn the eve of the wedding.

During the years Betsy's father was pastor of All Saints' Church, she attended River and Sunset schools here, later was a student at Solebury School in New Hope, Pennsylvania. After a year at the University of California, she returned to the Peninsula to enroll at Monterey Peninsula College.

The benedict, a graduate of Carmel High School, studied at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, UC Berkeley and the General Theological Seminary in New York City. Following two years as curate in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek, the Reverend Mr. Smith joined the staff of the York School for Boys.

The newly married couple, who enjoyed a brief wedding trip to San Francisco, are making their home in Monterey.

August Nursery Additions

Anthony Peter Gestri, born at Community Hospital on August 10, is now at home in Livermore, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gestri, have moved from their former Carmel residence.

Martha Alicia (Martita) is the name of the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victoriano Lopez of lower Carmel Valley. Martita, who arrived at Community Hospital on August 21, is the sister of Manuel, aged three, and the niece of Mrs. Antonia Lopez of Carmel Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Larson are delighted with their new family addition, Maria Georgia, whose birthday was celebrated August 24 at Community Hospital. Maria's brother, Dana, and her sister, Kari, are students at River School, Kari having just begun her adventures in education. The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Larson, all Iowa residents.

Sarawak Will Be Their Home

Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas Anderson Jr., the former Janet Leslie Hibbs of Carmel, have arrived in Hilo, Hawaii, to spend three months training at a primitive camp in preparation for Peace Corps service in Sarawak, where they will supervise teachers in the elementary school system. Now acclimating themselves to do without electricity and running water as well as other conveniences, the newlyweds will travel in the future by river boat or bicycle in the territory which will be their home.

The young couple were married August 22 at the Carmel home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hibbs, by the Reverend Chad Boliek.

Mrs. Robert Beck (Anne Hibbs) of Great Falls, Montana, was her sister's matron of honor. Robert Harter of Los Angeles served as best man.

Following graduation in June from Stanford University, the Andersons devoted their summer to working in East Palo Alto with the Mid-Peninsula Christian Ministry Community House, which maintains day camps for culturally disadvantaged children.

The bride also attended Heathfield in Ascot, England, and Los Altos High School.

Her new husband is the son of Major and Mrs. James Douglas Anderson of Saratoga.

Wed In Historic Church

John Scott Rambach of Carmel and Lynn Hughes Hoxie of Pebble Beach were married August 27 in the charming Church of the 49ers in the historic Mother Lode town of Columbia, now a State Park. The bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Hoxie of Pebble Beach, also her brother, Robert Hoxie of Monterey, witnessed the early evening ceremony performed by the Reverend George W. Crichton.

The bride was attired in a day-length dress of white pique with lace trim, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white carnations combined with yellow daisies and yellow roses.

Another historic and enchanting spot, the Gunn House in nearby Sonoma, was chosen by the newlyweds for their brief honeymoon before returning to Carmel, where they are now at home.

The new Mrs. Rambach, daughter of the late Robert Hoxie, is a graduate of the University of California, Berkeley, where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She is an active member of the Community Hospital Auxiliary and the Young Republicans.

Her husband, manager of the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center branch of United California Bank, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rambach of Boston. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College, also did postgraduate work at Cornell University.

Holiday For Clyn Smith

A "postman's holiday" will begin for Dr. Clyn Smith and his wife, Pamela, on Monday, when they leave for a three-week trip during which Dr. Smith will attend meetings of the Pan-Pacific Surgical Association in Hawaii, Tokyo, and Hong Kong. Hopefully, the conferences will allow Dr. Smith to join his wife in more than a little sight-seeing.

Sharon Smith, a June graduate of Carmel High, is now enrolled at Occidental, while her brother, Clyn Jr., has returned to Princeton. Their young brother Brian, and baby Molly will be holding down the home front, with the help of Molly's grandmother, Mrs. Horace Dormody, while the travelers are away.

Former Resident Returns

Mrs. Joan Reed, after a number of years in her native New York, has returned to Carmel where she has many friends, made during the years she lived here with her former husband, the late George Aucourt. Joan is "casing" the village to determine if Western suburbia is preferable to life in the Eastern megalopolis, Manhattan.

The U. S. Commerce Department has reported that the total debt in the American economy was up to $1.3 trillion last year. Of the total, $805.4 billion was private and $362.1 billion public.

On exhibition at the Laky Galleries is a one-man show of the work of Othello Michetti entitled "Watercolors of Japan." The 27 pictures are a record of the artist's recent visit to Japan. Starting in Kobe, he experienced "a remarkable adventure lasting 11 weeks" which included "the breathtaking beauty of Japan's matchless panoramas."

Mr. Michetti painted what he saw in his own style although the watercolors are Japanese in mood. He has lived in California since 1921 and served as art director for Stecher-Traung Lithograph Corporation for 40 years. Prior to that he studied at the Art Students League in New York.

In California, Othello Michetti has established himself as a painter in watercolor and casein and has exhibited frequently, taught and served on art juries. His love for painting the outdoors has led to extensive travels in the western United States, Mexico, the British Isles, Europe and the Orient.

The Michetti show will remain at the Laky Galleries through September 24.

The 21st annual art show sponsored by the San Juan Bautista Chamber of Commerce closed on Sunday. Local artists whose work was on display were S. C. Yuan, Mary L. Twisselman, Gunnell Sedletzky, Tatiana Koslova, Gerard

T. Akin and Walter H. Rowland. Joe Feuerborn was one of the judges for the show.

A first award in the professional division was given to S. C. Yuan for his entry, "Clam Diggers." Honorable mention in the amateur division went to Mary L. Twisselman for "Sunrise."

One of the greatest art exhibitions ever held in the United States is coming to the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco on October 11. "The Age of Rembrandt" is the name of the show which will continue through November 13. This will be the first time an exhibition of Dutch painting of such magnitude has been presented on the West Coast. There will be more than 100 paintings of the great artists of the 17th century Dutch school. They have been borrowed from 54 museums and private collections in Holland, England, France, Germany, Switzerland and the United States.

A highlight of the show will be the Norton Simon Foundation's celebrated Rembrandt, "Portrait of Titus," for which nearly $2½ million was paid at a London auction in 1965. Value of the entire collection coming to San Francisco will be $50 million.

The paintings will be accompanied to this country by the curators of the three principal Dutch museums cooperating in the venture. These are the Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam, the Mauritshuis at The Hague and the Boymans-van Beuningen Museum in Rotterdam.

A local sculptor, Stephen Brown, is the new curator of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association (AFA) gallery. He will be in charge of hanging monthly exhibitions, workshops and bus tours. Mrs. Jess Braucht, former curator, has retired to resume her painting. The museum association's board of directors voted honorary life memberships to Mrs. Braucht and her husband for their outstanding contributions to the organization.

Mrs. Lise Tescher is chairman of the Peninsula Museum of Art Association's committee to raise funds to provide $900, for three prizes of $300 each, which will be awarded for work judged best in the organization's annual competitive exhibition for which application blanks are now available at the museum association's gallery on Lincoln Street south of Ocean Avenue. The competition is open to Monterey Peninsula artists.

A "Meet the Artists Preview" will be held on October 5. Invitations are available at $5 each. Fred Martin, director of the San Francisco Art Institute will judge entries in this year's competitive show which opens on October 6.

Donations Requested For MPVS Tombola

Carmel and Pebble Beach residents are among Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services members who are working this year to create the best Tombola ever held. Mrs. Ellis P. Egan and Mrs. Clare Appleby are co-chairmen in charge of the handicraft booth displaying art objects and Christmas gifts. Mrs. Wilma Lazenby is assisting Mrs. Edwin L. Bidwell with treasures and antiques for one of the most popular booths of the October 12 sale, as is Mrs. Laurids Jorgenson. Mrs. Lawrence Kinsler has already announced she has some beautiful summer hats for early shoppers and hopes to obtain a few more winter bonnets as well as handbags and accessories. Miss Gertrude Rendtorff indicates that she has quite a collection of plants for the garden booth and would be willing to accept plant donations at her home; provided donors would telephone her in advance. Mrs. W. Lincoln Noelle emphasizes that broken pieces of jewelry and unstrung beads can be just as saleable as those in perfect condition and urges persons who have put that repair job off too long to telephone her for pick-up of such donations. Mrs. Howard Healey will be acting as general treasurer again this year.

Mrs. C. L. Underwood, 1966 general chairman, requests that anyone giving donations to MPVS to be used for the October 12 sale desiring pick-up service telephone Mrs. Carl Wester, 375-5453, pick-up chairman.

Tombola will be held at the Monterey Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at the door the day of the sale. Each $1 entrance-donation entitles the ticket holder to a door prize drawing. Beneficiaries this year will be the Monterey County Symphony Association, the Visiting Nurse Association and the Family Service Agency.

PARENT-FACULTY MEETING AT RIVER SCHOOL

The first River School parent-faculty meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Stuart Mitchell Library at the school. Dr. Harris Taylor, new superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, will speak on "Education of the Pre-Adolescents — Who Are They, What Are Their Needs?"

Principal Orville Rogers will introduce the new faculty members and refreshments will be served. All parents are urged to attend.

GANNY COUNSEL by Sagacious Sal

Dear Sal,

I work long hours, six days a week. Then on my day off, my wife refuses to go anywhere with me. And if I do something by myself, she becomes furious. I'm about ready to give up on her and find "another woman." J.P.T.

Dear J.P.T.,

You are logical, have a sense of humor, and are generous, as shown by your writing. But you don't have the drive and aggressiveness of a man who would become so involved in his work. Also I detect a little inconsistency and moodiness in your writing. Sometimes you are open. Other times, you stay within yourself. It appears that the strain of an unbalanced life takes its toll on your personality. Before you find "another woman", find a good marriage counselor. Your problem appears to be one that can be resolved with a little outside help.

Dear Sal,

I am happily married — but homemaking bores me to tears. I would like to work, but my husband won't let me. He says I should be content with keeping up the house and taking care of the children. Please advise me.

Frustrated

Dear Frustrated,

From your handwriting, you show all the qualities necessary for success in the business world — excepting one. In spite of your excellent mind, you are emotionally handicapped. You can't make a move without obtaining definite approval first. As soon as you overcome this handicap, you should be able to do about anything you want. If your husband understands you, he must accept the fact that you need a real challenge for your highly analytical mind and tremendous drive. Even part-time work, or volunteer community work, would fill many of your needs.

PINPOINT PROFILES

Anna Wilcox

Good things come in small packages!

Anna Wilcox weighs only 90 pounds but, oh my, what a gal! We will start off by telling you she was born in Ireland. After coming to this country she trained to be a nurse, subsequently graduating from Long Island College Hospital in 1917. She joined the Army Nurses Corps and was forthwith shipped overseas to Langre, France. The pay in those days was not what you would call good. It was $50.00 per month for the first three years.

In a very short time, because of a meningitis epidemic, she found herself volunteering for that special duty. This was not an easy job since she had to be on duty at 7 a.m. and would continue work until 11 or 12 o'clock at night supervising two wards. Strenuous work and long hours did not seem to faze her. There were times when she even took two shifts when other nurses became exhausted and ill. Their camp hospital was under quarantine for six months.

After the war, this hospital was given a citation for meritorious and miraculous service. Following her stint of duty there, Anna Wilcox took a short leave and toured Switzerland. Returning to an army camp hospital at Nancy, France, she joined her former unit—the Bellevue group—back of the lines.

No lights were allowed at night and Anna tells how she would have to give the patients a hypodermic shot by the light of a match.

At the war's end, she sailed from France and went directly to the U. S. Army Hospital at Fort Sheridan, Illinois on July 2, 1919. The very next day a request was posted on the bulletin board for volunteers to relieve the nurses in Siberia.

A group of the young nurses got together and made up a unit. After a slow journey on a slow Army transport, they arrived in Vladivostok, Siberia, on December 13, 1919.

They were quarantined and under guard night and day. Most of the cases were pneumonia and fractures, Anna told us.

After six months' duty there, she was again transferred—this time to the Philippines. On the day the ship arrived in Manila the thermometer read 110 degrees. Well, to the American nurses, all decked out in fur caps, fur lined coats and what have you, this temperature was not exactly appreciated.

The first night in Manila, Anna was invited out by a young lieutenant. Now, all the clothes Anna had were the uniforms she used in her work. However, she borrowed

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON
A Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" will be presented at Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah: "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel."

From the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passages will be considered:

"Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous . . . The crude creations of mortal thought must finally give place to the glorious forms which we sometimes behold in the camera of divine Mind, when the mental picture is spiritual and eternal."

a light sweater and skirt from one of the other nurses (this was the best they could come up with) and set out to keep her date and a "night on the town."

"To come to such a pleasantly warm place as Manila was sheer delight," Anna says, "especially after living in Siberia for so long."

Because of germ carrying mosquitos, everyone was cautioned to cover beds with mosquito netting at night. This Anna failed to do. When morning came she could not even open her eyes because of the many mosquito bites, also she could not report for duty that day.

"It was most embarrassing," declared Anna.

A few years later, because of her devotion to duty while serving at Fort Lewis, Washington, the U. S. Surgeon General selected Anna for special training at Columbia University. However, after talking it over with her fiancé, she declined the offer because they were thinking seriously about marriage.

"I have never regretted my decision," says Anna.

After their marriage in Washington they were sent to the Philippines, but later returned to the United States. Her young husband attended officers school at Fort Benning, Georgia — later taught military matters at the University of Nevada. A tour of duty in Hawaii was greatly enjoyed by them.

Colonel Wilcox spent 28 years in the armed services. Now he and Anna are retired and enjoy living in Canterbury Woods. She is a four foot 11 inch dynamo and he is a stately six foot two inches.

Courtesy is itself a form of service. By gentleness of manner, by an unobtrusive sympathy, by thoughtfulness for others in little things, we may smooth the roughness of life.—R. W. Dale

Marie Rasmussen

Funeral services for Marie Rasmussen were held Saturday afternoon in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, with the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church officiating. Miss Rasmussen died earlier the same day in a local hospital after a period of failing health.

Born August 21, 1889, near Erwin, South Dakota, she was a resident of California since 1919 and had made her home in Carmel since 1954.

She was a former bookkeeper with Coyle Flooring Company in Monterey.

Miss Rasmussen leaves two sisters, Mrs. Ethel R. Stanford of Carmel and Mrs. Emma Mulligan of Sacramento; a brother, Carl E. Rasmussen of Carmel; three nieces and three nephews, including Mrs. Jean Sciochetti of Monterey and Donald W. Stanford of Pacific Grove; and a cousin, Gus Gaarstad of Monterey.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Miss Rasmussen may do so to the Cobalt Therapeutic Fund of Community Hospital.

The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Four Reading Programs Now Being Taught At River School

BY CAROL VAN DEN BERG

Thinking a moment, David Erskine replied, "That reminds me of a story about a test paper in college zoology which was written from the viewpoint of an ant. The ant divided the animal kingdom into two classes: (a) the kind and gentle animals such as the lion, the tiger and the rattlesnake; (b) the ferocious animals such as the chicken, the duck, and the goose. It all depends on one's basic premise how important is one's point of view."

Under the creative, and capable hands of Mr. Erskine, principal of Carmel River School, many dimensions of learning have been added to education in addition to teaching the three R's.

In a sense, River School is a pioneer school—striving to educate children for the space age.

Challenging approaches are being used to achieve this such as non-graded classrooms; compatible teacher-student placement; dynamic reading programs suited to the student's specific needs and learning pattern; parent participation as teacher aides, library aides, room mothers, secretary aides, cafeteria aides, and maintenance aides.

A student council, comprised of students from each non-graded level in the school, who evaluate and advise on possible school activities, is another challenging approach; also creative thinking classes are given so that children, using works of literature as a basis, can explore such subjects as "How are people different from lower animals?" School choirs and assemblies, where gifted artists from the community are brought in to inform the children, are a few more examples of the imaginative, vital approach being used in River School.

A down-to-earth approach, yet one fairly original in a school environment, is the policy of placing each student with a teacher who presents the ultimate climate for his pattern of learning. Some children come from homes with carefully defined expectancies. They learn better under a more structured teaching program. Other children come from homes where a premium is placed on self reliance; where children are expected to develop their own resources. These children tend to be self starters and tend to operate better under a less structured situation. Of course, there are all degrees in between.

Four distinct, highly productive reading programs are being taught simultaneously to students in River School. None of the programs is in an experimental stage. All of them are considered excellent from research findings. Many different criteria are used to determine which of the four programs best fits each child's learning pattern.

Sullivan's method teaches, step by step, little bits of learning, sequenced in ordered steps. An example of the logic used in this program can be found in the way the phonic vowel sounds are taught. Sullivan gives a thousand or so examples of words where the short vowel sound of "a" is used before teaching another sound of "a", the long sound etc. This eliminates much confusion many students experience when vowels are not presented in a logical manner. Boys seem to learn exceptionally well with Sullivan's method.

Dr. Robert Van Allen of San Diego pioneered a different approach. And a teacher from River School took part of a year's sabbatical leave to study the program thoroughly. This program is called the "language experience" approach. In this approach, children write their own stories. Then using the actual words the child uses, the teacher trains the child in phonics as well as sight reading of his own material. This method is a highly individual method and demands that the teacher use many resources for each child.

Not too long ago, Dr. Calcott of Queens College wrote a book criticizing reading methods. And not only did he criticize, but he did something about it. Under his program, the students learn the vowels first, using colored slides. Mr. Erskine said it is a powerful approach where children learn 2,000 or more words during the first year. In older reading methods, children learned about 350 words during the first year.

The last program given at River School is a highly technical one. There are always children enrolled in public schools who have difficulty reading even though they have normal intelligence. These children have specific reading disabilities. They may be aphasic, dyslexic, have mixed dominance or a variety of perceptual difficulties. These children are placed in special classes where they are given specialized help. The kinesthetic approach, among others, is used with them.

River School doors have been opened wide to parents. An organization, more properly called Parent Volunteers, enlisted the aid of about 100 parents last year. They did such things as serving as teachers aides, correcting school papers, giving classroom assistance where needed, helping with clerical classroom work, and as library aides.

The fathers meet on Saturday mornings. They have built shelves and installed playground equipment for the school.

"By freeing the teacher from non-teaching chores, the parents have given the teacher more time to enrich the teaching program," Mr. Erskine stated. When asked if the parents took their volunteer work seriously, not continually missing days, Mr. Erskine stated that occasionally a volunteer could not be counted on, but at River School the attitude was generally one of responsibility and enthusiasm.

Pianist Roy Bogas, Beyer Trio To Give Free Concert Sunday

Featuring Roy Bogas, pianist, the Beyer String Trio will return to the Forest Theater on Sunday at 2 p.m. for the third of four concerts under the co-sponsorship of the Carmel Arts Commission and Local 616, American Federation of Musicians. This concert, the first of the extended season which honors Carmel's Golden Anniversary as an incorporated city, will be free to the public.

Mr. Bogas, laureate of the Second International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Moscow, appeared at the age of 14 as soloist with the San Francisco Symphony under the baton of Rudolf Ganz. Since that time, he has made numerous appearances with that orchestra, as well as with the Seattle, San Diego, and Stanford orchestras. He has toured as accompanist with Yehudi Menuhin, David Abel, and Joseph Sziget, and in South America as assistant conductor of the San Francisco Ballet Company. He recently played at the 1966 Carmel Bach Festival.

On Sunday, Mr. Bogas will per-

"The overall purposes of our school," Mr. Erskine states, "seem to me to be: (1) to promote a continuing curiosity; (2) to help pupils acquire knowledge; (3) to equip them with the essential tools for pursuing learning independently. Our teachers then, have a two-fold task. They must, in conjunction with parents and the total school program, motivate each child to be alert to meanings in instruction and to learn the essential facts that make up knowledge. They must also be very skillful in planning and offering sequences of learning activities through which students will learn the disciplines of reading, mathematics, spelling and the rest."

form Brahms' Piano Quartet, Opus 26 in A Major with the Beyer Trio and the Mozart Sonata in D Major for Violin and Piano with Helen Beyer.

The trio—composed of Helen Beyer, violin, Elaine Beyer, cello, and Erwin Gordon, viola—will open the program with the gay Serenade, Opus 10 in C Major by Dohnanyi.

The fourth concert by the Beyer String Trio is scheduled for October 23, as a feature of the ten-day 50th Anniversary Festival. Guest artists will be Wade Parks, pianist, and Raymond Fabrizio, flutist. The concert will be heard at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Center auditorium.

Tight Money Is Two-Sided Coin

Tight money is a two-sided coin. Although the squeeze is on credit, investors now have available some of the highest-interest income opportunities in the past 32 years.

Dean Witter & Co., in a research study just released on tax-free municipal bonds, high-grade corporate obligations and convertible bond issues, observed that tight money has created attractive returns in all these issues—a situation of relatively low-priced bonds with interest rates above a 45-year average.

The available yields range from over 4% for selected Western municipal bonds (tax free) to over 5% and 6% in a number of convertible bond issues and corporate obligations.

"While the current monetary squeeze might temporarily result in some further increase in rates, we believe that the present returns are very attractive for investors emphasizing income and for so-called senior money portions of balanced investment portfolios," the report said.

PARTY PLANS . . .

By Phyllis Jervey

AROUND THE WORLD DEMOCRATIC DISHES

When Mrs. John Robotti of Carmel, chairman of the women's division of the Democratic State Central Committee, asked us to include their club's party planning in PARTY PLANS, we were delighted.

Sponsored by the Carmel Women's Democratic Club as a benefit for three local California Democratic candidates, a garden party, to begin at 3 p.m. on Sunday, will be held at the river home of the Harwell Dyers, 90 Boronda Road in Carmel Valley. The beautifully kept greensward surrounded by a splendid variety of lovely trees, is a perfect setting for the international buffet to be served al fresco.

Dishes donated will include casseroles from Mexico, France, Holland, Belgium, Italy, the Scandinavian countries, Austria, Ireland, Greece, the Orient, the West Indies and the U.S.A. There will be "around-the-world" songs and folk dancing and a surprise auction. Guests of honor will be Senator Fred Farr, Gerald V. Barron and Irby Bourriague.

Mrs. Susan Foley, owner of Carmel's Party Carousel, will display her fantastically brilliant Mexican paper poppies and handwoven table mats, amusing pinata burros and toros, plus black wrought iron candelabra with beeswax candles in rainbow colors. Her terra cotta patio lamps and ashtrays are unusually effective. All these intriguing items will be on sale for the benefit of the local Women's Democratic Club.

We are sharing some of the delectable casseroles in advance. Do sample these and many more in person this coming Sunday!

SCHINKENFLECKERL
(Ham and Noodles)

By Mrs. Rudolph Alt

This much loved Viennese dish is one of the favorite specialties of petite blue eyed Mrs. Alt who is Vienna-born. She is the project chairman for Monterey County's women's division of the Democratic State Central Committee. With such an impressive title we are positive that Mrs. Alt, who is also chairman for Sunday's event, will have an outstanding success.

For the SCHINKENFLECKERL casserole, boil in salted water 1 large package of Golden Egg Twists Noodles and drain. While still hot, add 1 stick of softened butter beaten with 1 egg. To this add 1 lb. lean cooked ham, cut into cubes, and sauteed first in butter. Mix all together and put into buttered casserole. Make day before, then bake in 350 F. oven 35 minutes. Reheat at serving (Serves 8.)

BLINDEN FINKEN
(Blind Finches, or Sunbirds, or Veal Birds)

By Corneles Van Peski

We have Mr. Van Peski to thank for his Dutch version of what we call veal birds. Mr. Van Peski was born in Rotterdam, but lived in Amsterdam and The Hague and learned his exacting profession from Henri de-Bouchet who was co-chef with the great Escoffier. No wonder such marvelous dishes are served at Neil DeVaughn's on Cannery Row. It is Corneles Van Peski who supervises the cuisine, par excellence!

BLINDEN FINKEN are a great delicacy when prepared as Mr. Van Peski told us. Have butcher slice veal in 8 thin slices. Put each slice between 2 pieces of waxed paper and beat with a small wooden mallet until very thin but not broken. Make a stuffing from 1½ lbs. veal, uncooked and cut up; ½ lb. fresh washed mushrooms with stems, cut up; 1 shallot or small white onion; salt and pepper and a pinch of fresh chervil. Put through fine part of meat grinder and moisten the mixture with dry white wine to make right consistency for stuffing. Divide this among the 8 slices of veal; roll each compactly and fasten with wooden toothpicks. Brown on all sides in butter. Put into casserole and add wine to just cover. Bake in 350 F. oven until cooked through. Cover with a white wine sauce to which cream and egg yolk have been skilfully added. Season delicately to taste. Serve very hot. (Serves 8.)

NAVARIN DE FRANCE
Lamb Cooked in White Wine

By Madeleine Dowdakin

Talented, vivacious Madeleine is a fine cook in the Parisian manner.

NAVARIN is known to all French people as leg of lamb simmered in white wine and subtly seasoned with a "bouquet garni." Madeleine, who lives in Carmel Valley with her forester husband John Dowdakin, also an avid trout fisherman, misses her native France but returns as frequently as possible to visit her parents there.

These are Madeleine's directions for NAVARIN: Have your butcher cut a 5 lb. leg of lamb into 1½ inch cubes, freed of fat and gristle. Brown these in vegetable oil, lightly, sprinkle with flour through a sieve. Add salt and pepper. Put into Dutch oven or attractive all-purpose casserole. Add dry wine to cover and a "bouquet garni" consisting of a small doubled cheesecloth bag filled with sweet basil, thyme, rosemary, mint, parsley, bay leaf, cut up shallot or onion and carrot; tie with long string for easy removal. Season Navarin with garlic and onion salt and paprika to taste. Cover and simmer on top of stove until lamb is almost done; wine should be added as it cooks away. Cool and refrigerate 24 hours. Remove any surface grease. Reheat (but never boil), before serving. Meat should remain firm. Correct seasoning, remove bouquet and serve very hot over dry fluffy white rice. (Serves 8.)

COLD CHICKEN TERIYAKI
with Japanese Salad

By William Norton

William Norton is an expert on Japanese cookery. He loves everything from Japan and this of course includes his charming, artistic Japanese wife.

When PARTY PLANS asked him about the Japanese casserole he is contributing for the Democratic party, he told us in a most gentle way that the Japanese never serve casseroles as such. Instead Mr. Norton will offer his Chicken Teriyaki sans casserole served cold with an accompanying Japanese salad.

For the CHICKEN TERIYAKI, have one capon cut into 8 serving pieces, or use 2 chickens. Saute pieces in hot vegetable oil until lightly browned on all sides. Put in shallow baking pan and bake in 350 F. oven until almost done. Make a sauce from 1½ cups soy sauce, ½ cup honey, 6 tbsps. sake or dry white wine and powdered ginger to taste. Heat this for about 15 minutes before chicken is done, brush the exotic sauce over all and return to oven to glaze. Cool, refrigerate and serve cold.

JAPANESE SALAD: As with the old fashioned New England type of salad, Mr. Norton says to have crisp lettuce hearts, (Boston

CAZUELA DE GARBANZOS

(Chick Pea Casserole)

By Phyllis Jervey

This "cazuela" is of Spanish origin with Caribbean nuances. For many years Phyllis Jervey lived in Santo Domingo with her parents where she enjoyed this "sabrosa cocido" (savory stew) at all times of day or night! In childhood it was sampled sans parental approval in the servants' kitchen for breakfast. Later, as a grown up, this favored energy-giving "cazuela" brought strength for dancing until dawn followed by swimming in palm-fringed tropical waters.

To make the Cazuela de Garbanzos, assemble two No. 1 1/2 cans of cooked garbanzos; 1 good-sized ham hock with plenty of meaty ham; 12 small onions, 4 garlic cloves, minced; 1 green pepper diced; 1 tsp. paprika; 1/2 tsp. powdered saffron; quick dash of cayenne; 12 small Spanish (or Italian) garlic sausages called "chorizos" in Spain; 12 small canned new potatoes; 2 small green cabbages, quartered; 1 small jar sliced pimiento; chopped parsley.

Simmer ham hock in water to cover until tender. Save pot liquor and cut ham into good-sized cubes, removing fat and gristle. Save ham. To liquid in pot, add onions, garlic, green pepper, seasonings and chorizos. Simmer until sausages are tender. Add canned potatoes and green cabbage with canned garbanzos, including their liquid. Simmer until everything is piping hot and liquid cooked down somewhat. Serve from clay "cazuela" like our California-Mexican ones. Top with sliced pimiento and chopped fresh parsley. What tempting aromas this dish gives! (Serves 8.)

From Phyllis Jervey's "A World of Parties", published by Charles E. Tuttle of Rutland, Vermont and Tokyo, Japan.

ATTENTION SLOW DRIVERS

If you're a slow driver, you should remember to pull off the road whenever five or more cars are stacked up behind you and you can pull off safely. The California State Automobile Association reminds that California law requires you to do this on two-lane highways where passing is unsafe.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

When a great man dies . . . all his relatives write biographies. Thus we have SOMERSET AND ALL THE MAUGHAMS, by Robin Maugham. Happily nephew Robin can write, having fourteen previous books to his credit, and this one marches very well indeed. This is the true story of several generations of Maughams all of whom were characters worth reading about.

And speaking of characters, brings us to the subject of Cissy Patterson, once editor of the Washington Times-Herald. Born Eleanor Medill Patterson, in 1881, she was twice married, and ended with the name Patterson, but she was always called Cissy. It was her name and almost her trademark. Her brother Joseph Medill Patterson was editor of the New York Daily News and her cousin was editor of the Chicago Tribune. The three were able to greatly influence public opinion and to wage verbal war against the actions and opinions of their day. Many were the battles which raged around their heads, most of them private battles. The biography is called CISSY PATTERSON, and it was written by Alice Albright Hoge.

PROMETHEUS, THE LIFE OF BALZAC, by Andre Maurois was first published in French last year and only recently came out in translation in this country. In the more than a hundred years since the death of Balzac there has been continued interest in his life as well as his works, and more material is constantly coming to light. It is said that this book may well be the best writing that Maurois has ever done. Balzac was born in 1799 and died in 1850, at the height of his literary power. In the literary world of France he ranked with Victor Hugo who was his contemporary.

Thomas and Martha Jefferson had six children only two of which survived. Of the two, the oldest was named Martha and called Patsy, the other was named Mary. These two daughters, with Martha their mother, were MR. JEFFERSON'S LADIES, and the subject and title of the book by Gordon Hall. This is the inside story of home life at Monticello, and diplomatic life in Washington where Patsy was her father's hostess. This is a small book and a delightful one.

The jacket blurb for the next book tells us that for 60 years Maria Theresa of Habsburg has not been treated in a biography. Comes now Robert Pick to remedy this deficiency with his book EMPRESS MARIA THERESA. This was the empress who ruled the Hapsburg dominions for forty years, the first woman to do so. She was a practical person with a gift for making people like her and she tied together all the sections of her land into a dynasty, meanwhile bearing 16 children. In those days queens and empresses had to have a lot of intestinal fortitude to survive and make it into history.

A book of mixed parentage is entitled LEONARDO DA VINCI. Partly it was written by Leonardo himself, partly it has been taken from notes by Vasari, and partly it is taken from works by several other people. But the thing is that it is authentic biography and the color illustrations are beautiful. We have this classified under the painting number rather than biography because of the plates. But it is biography and well worth your reading time.

And if you are still with me, your attention should be called to one more biography, that of Sir Walter Scott. It was written by Christina Keith and called THE AUTHOR OF WAVERLY. The book aims to be a study of the personality of Sir Walter and it does seem that his personal type personality could stand a bit of study.

All our space used up on biographies! But we have so many new books in other fields, that if biography is not your cup of tea, come anyway, for we will have something for you.

County To Seal Coat Carmel Woods Roads

Road Commissioner Bruce W. McClain announces that the following roads in Monterey County will be seal coated on or about the dates shown on the following schedule: Carmel Woods streets, September 26 & 27 — Valley Way, Pescadero Road, San Luis Avenue, Lower and Upper Trail.

Residents are asked not to park on these streets on the date work is scheduled. Traffic will be subject to short delays, flagmen control, and speed restrictions during work periods.

Six ways to cut the cost of your winter heating bills.

1. Have your heating system checked now.

Don't let the first cold snap catch you unprepared for winter. Call your furnace man. He'll make sure your furnace is in safe working order with your gas pilots operating.

2. Insulate

Insulate floors and ceilings and you'll cut heating costs up to 45%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—it often pays for itself in just a few seasons.

3. Weatherstrip.

Weatherstripping around doors and windows plugs heat leaks and keeps cold air outside. A doorjamb may require a metal strip to take the constant friction of opening and closing. Loose windows may need a thick felt stripping.

4. Close dampers and drapes.

When not using your fireplace, close the damper. If you leave it open, heat escapes. Also, 16% of your heat can be lost through windows with open drapes.

5. Set your thermostat—and leave it.

Frequent changes in room temperature settings mean a bigger heating bill. Agree on a healthy thermostat setting (say 70°) and leave it there.

If Junior says he's cold, put a sweater on him.

6. Change filters.

Most forced air furnaces have filters to trap dust. For maximum heat flow they should be replaced every six months. Clean dust and lint out of wall and floor heaters periodically, too.

Bigger bills, but lower rates.

Your winter PG&E bills will reflect increased heating and lighting, TV watching, more hot meals and more appliances in use.

But there have been five reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates in the past three years. So summer and winter, your PG&E service is a bigger family bargain than ever.

TALK ON VIET NAM

Lieutenant Roger Ramsey (USN), who was an advisor to the Viet Nam Navy, told members of the Carmel Kiwanis Club last week that American forces are facing a very tough enemy in the Viet Cong. He believes the U. S. will have to remain in that country until some type of peace is restored because a Communist take-over must be stopped now. If Viet Nam is lost, Lieutenant Ramsey added, it is possible all of Southeast Asia may fall to the Communists.

The naval officer pointed out that American forces are in Viet Nam to help the people obtain peace, then prosperity. The reason poverty has existed in the tiny country for so long, he said, is because it has seen nothing but war for almost 30 years.

The speaker, now a student at the U.S.N. Postgraduate School in Monterey, was introduced by Hal Armor.

50 Years Ago in Carmel

—THIS WEEK—

CARMEL TO HAVE

A meeting to consider the formation of a Red Cross chapter in Carmel was held last Thursday at the studio of Miss J. M. Culbertson who was made temporary chairman.

There is work for those who sew or knit, or do neither. In fact everyone can find the opportunity to lend a helping hand.

After much inspiring talk, the chairman asked if it were the desire of those present to form a Carmel chapter. It was unanimously decided to do so.

Mrs. Philip Wilson and Miss E. Farrington were made a committee for nomination of officers.

A central meeting place where workers could drop in at any time was considered an advantage. Mrs. Pudan and Miss L. Lichtenthaler are a committee to secure such a room.

A Carmel visitor donated $5 so that the work might begin.

Men of Carmel are not excluded from this philanthropic enterprise and they are invited to make known their interest in joining the Red Cross group.

The next Red Cross meeting will be on Tuesday afternoon at the Carmel Hotel. Officers will be elected and work to be taken up will be discussed.

FOREST FIRES

The forest fires in the Cone Peak and Carmel watershed sections south of here have been completely extinguished. The main efforts of the fire fighters were concentrated upon preventing the burning of the Carmel watershed and this was accomplished. A portion of the Big Sur watershed was so badly devastated that this section will suffer considerably in the event of a severe winter.

INCORPORATION

Not only here at home, but also throughout the county, much interest has been aroused in Carmel's proposed incorporation plan. It is the general opinion that it is a move in the right direction. H.

Renaissance Music
Festival Announced
As November Event

At the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society rehearsal last Wednesday Director John Gosling announced plans for a major music festival on the Peninsula.

Entitled "A Festival of Renaissance Music," this two-day event, will be held on November 5 and 6 at the First Methodist Church in Pacific Grove. Featured will be the full 85-voice Choral Society, smaller choirs and brass ensembles. Special guests artists will be Dr. Robert Commanday, music editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Ludwig Altman, well-known organist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

One of the highlights of the festival will be the American premiere of the brass work, "Aria della Battaglia," by Andrea Gaglieli.

Mrs. John Beahan, president of the Choral Society, welcomed 80 new and former members at the September 7 meeting, and advised that those wishing to join this performing group telephone 624-8170 for further information. Registration will be closing soon.

MPC TO PRESENT
ELIZABETHAN
MUSIC CONCERT

Surrounded by such antique instruments as the sackbut and the krumphorn, four musical performers known as The John Biggs Consort will appear in concert September 24, 8:30 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College Music Hall.

The evening of Elizabethan instrumental and vocal music, presented by the MPC Community Services office, is open to the public without charge. No tickets will be required for admission.

Director of the group is John Biggs. Presently on the faculty of Pierce College, he is also a composer.

Other members of the consort are Salli Terri (Mrs. Biggs), Harold Owen and Claire Gordon. They have performed in schools, colleges, universities, private homes and on the concert stage "with equal success."

Interior Designers
Of Note Here Today

Eighty of the nation's foremost interior designers arrived here today for a three-day tour of the Monterey Peninsula. They are members of the American Institute of Interior Designers who attended a 35th annual conference earlier in the week at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

Local A.I.D. members will revive old friendships and will act as hostesses for a busy program of sightseeing and entertainment. They are Roberta Hancock, Belva Sanford (F.A.L.D.), Nelle Currie (Mrs. Alfred G. Fry), Harriet Weill, Jo Grace Foltz, Dorothy Constans and Myrtle Ferber, all active designers with Peninsula firms.

The post-conference visitors will travel here by bus and visit Monterey historic adobes and other Peninsula highlights. They will have lunch today at Gallatin's restaurant where a gourmet menu of abalone and other local delicacies has been planned. Tomorrow night, they will be honored with a cocktail and dinner party at the Beach Club. Saturday, they will enjoy a final lunch at Highlands Inn before they head south to Los Angeles, with a stop at the Hearst Castle.

Among the notables in the design field here today are the Countess Gozzi of Venice, Italy, who heads the Fortuny fabric firm; Marian Scoenfield who is charged with Marshall Field's interior design department; Louisa K. Cowan of Scalander Silks and Keith Wells, design director for Callaway Mills.

The newly elected president of A.I.D., James Merrick Smith of Coconut Grove, Florida, will also be present as will Derek M. Fairman, northern California chapter president.

CALLING A PUBLIC HEARING TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE PUBLIC NECESSITY, HEALTH OR SAFETY OF PUBLIC WELFARE REQUIRE THE REMOVAL OF POLES AND OVERHEAD WIRES AND ASSOCIATED OVERHEAD STRUCTURES FROM A PORTION OF THE UNDERGROUND UTILITY DISTRICT DESCRIBED IN SECTION 1409.01 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE

WHEREAS Division 2 of Part XI of the Municipal Code establishes a procedure for the removal of poles and wires and associated overhead structures from a portion of the Underground Utility District, described in Section 1409.01 of said Municipal Code, and requires as the initial step in such procedure the holding of a public hearing to ascertain whether public necessity, health or safety or public welfare requires the removal of poles and overhead wires and associated overhead structures from any public street, alley, or way within said portion; and

WHEREAS it has been recommended that poles and overhead wires and associated overhead structures be removed from:

Within the area bounded by a line that begins at the intersection of the centerline of San Carlos Street and the southerly boundary line of Sixth Avenue and running thence southerly along the centerline of San Carlos Street 30 feet, thence westerly and parallel with the centerline of Sixth Avenue 80 feet; thence southerly and parallel with the centerline of San Carlos Street 100 feet to a point in the northerly boundary line of Ocean Avenue; thence westerly along the northerly boundary line of Ocean Avenue 50 feet; thence southerly and parallel with the centerline of San Carlos Street 100 feet to a point in the southerly boundary line of Ocean Avenue; thence westerly along the southerly boundary line of Ocean Avenue 25 feet; thence southerly and parallel with the centerline of San Carlos Street 450 feet; thence easterly and parallel with the centerline of Seventh Avenue 100 feet to a point in the westerly boundary line of San Carlos Street; thence northerly along the westerly boundary line of San Carlos Street 40 feet; thence easterly and parallel with the centerline of Seventh Avenue 285 feet to a point in the centerline of Mission Street; thence northerly along the centerline of Mission Street 130 feet to the point of intersection of the centerline of Mission Street with the northerly boundary line of Seventh Avenue; thence westerly along the northerly boundary line of Seventh Avenue 125 feet; thence northerly and parallel with the centerline of San Carlos Street 450 feet to a point in the centerline of Ocean Avenue; thence easterly along the centerline of Ocean Avenue 25 feet; thence northerly and parallel with the centerline of San Carlos Street 135 feet; thence westerly and parallel with the centerline of Sixth Avenue 75 feet; thence northerly and parallel with the centerline of San Carlos Street 45 feet to a point in the southerly boundary line of Sixth Avenue; thence westerly along the southerly boundary line of Sixth Avenue 80 feet to the point of beginning.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved as follows:

1) NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a public hearing will be held by the Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea on the 5th of October 1966, at the hour of 8:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, in the Council Chambers in the City Hall, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, to ascertain whether the public necessity, health or safety or public welfare requires the removal of poles and overhead wires and associated overhead structures from the above-described area (which is a portion of the Underground Utility District described in Section 1409.01 of the Municipal Code).

2) At such hearing, all persons interested shall be given an opportunity to be heard. Said hearing may be continued from time to time as may be determined by the City Council.

3) The City Clerk shall notify all affected property owners and utility companies of the time and place of such hearing by mailing a copy of this resolution to such property owners and utility companies at least 30 days prior to the date thereof.

CARMEL LIONS CLUB TO SELL 'SLOPPY JOES'

As the Monterey Jazz Festival approaches, members of the Carmel Lions Club are busy prettying up their booth and getting ready to go into the "Sloppy Joe" business this weekend.

Always looking for new ways to earn money to carry on their work in sight conservation and to aid those who are blind, as well as numerous other projects to benefit the community, the Lions this year have turned to "Sloppy Joes" to prove they are not a one-idea organization.

Although they sold around 8,000 tacos at the Monterey County Fair this year, they are out to prove they can do an equally good job in a different field.

New President And Members For Hi-12

William D. Williams is the new president of the Carmel High 12 Club, assuming the gavel from retiring President Ralph Thompson, Sr., who was elected secretary-treasurer at the club's Monday luncheon meeting. Other new officers are H. William Allen, first vice president; Phillip B. Smith, second vice president; John F. Holman, Clayton Wright, Ray Taylor, Ken Brown, Fritz Greenwald and Hal Reliford, directors.

Also on Monday, three new members who presented thumb-nail autobiographies were Lieutenant Colonel Gordon Cubbison (USA ret), the Reverend Lloyd E. Johnston and Lieutenant Colonel Earl House (USAF ret).

Colonel Cubbison is the son of Major General Donald Cubbison (USA ret) and Mrs. Cubbison, who have owned a home on Carmel Point for many years. His sister is Mrs. J. Arch Butts Jr. of Pebble Beach. Seriously wounded while serving as a paratrooper in Korea, Colonel Cubbison taught at Boston University after his retirement. A veteran of more than 120 parachute jumps, his hobby is high sky diving.

The Reverend Lloyd Johnston has been assistant pastor at All Saints' Church since early this year, having come here from St. Paul's Church in Elko, Nevada, where he was in charge of missions in Elko County. Included in his background is radiological safety work for the Army in Nevada and in the Pacific.

Colonel House, owner of Kinji's Oriental Shop, was an actor as well as an Air Force career officer, also a free balloon pilot out of Langley Field. He is a 1915 graduate of Stanford University.

Democratic Gala In Valley Sunday

"Dress: Informal and gay" is the instruction for those planning to attend a Garden Party Sunday afternoon, sponsored by the Carmel Women's Democratic Club for the three local California Democratic candidates, Senator Fred Farr, Gerald V. Barron and Irby Bourriague, who will be on hand to greet guests. The event, beginning at 3 p.m., will be held at the riverside home of Mr. and Mrs. Harwell Dyer, 90 Boronda Road, in Carmel Valley.

"Around the World with Famous Foods," theme of the afternoon, will feature a buffet of Mexican, French, Dutch, Belgian, Italian, Scandinavian, Austrian, American, Irish, Caribbean and Greek as well as several Oriental delicacies all donated by local experts in cuisine. Cocktails, beer and soft drinks will be served.

In addition to a surprise auction, entertainment on the theme of "Around the World with Songs and Folk Dancing" will include Lisa and Joe (popular folksingers Lisa Buchenroth and Joe Broadman) and Al Daoud's folk dancers, who will perform Greek dances in native costumes.

Donations are $2 per person. A few tickets are still available and may be obtained at Senator Farr's campaign headquarters on Seventh between Dolores and Lincoln (624-8251) or from Irene Baldwin's real estate office in Carmel Valley Village. Early arrivals may also purchase them at the entrance.

Responsible for planning the party, to which the public is invited, are Mrs. Rudolf Alt, chairman; Miss Ruth Dodds, president of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club; Mrs. John Robotti, chairman, Women's Division, Democratic State Central Committee; Mrs. Leonard Cohen, Mrs. Adolf Friedenthal, Mrs. Paul Haberfield, Mrs. William D. Pratt and Mrs. B. R. Stratton.

pilot study, authorized by the state legislature, for the establishment of a California scenic highway system. This study and legislation, introduced and authored by Senator Farr, resulted in the adoption of a plan for a statewide system of scenic highways.

Last year, the 72 miles of Highway One from Carmel River to the San Luis Obispo County line were officially designated as the first unit of the California Scenic Highway System. It is over these miles that Mrs. Johnson will drive on Wednesday. In her party will be California's Governor Edmund G. Brown and Mrs. Brown, also Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall and Mrs. Udall.

Mrs. Johnson will be welcomed to Monterey County at 1:15 p.m. in Colton Hall in Monterey, then proceed to Hurricane Point, north of the Little Sur River, where the Highway One dedication will take place.

A large boulder is being moved to this location and on it will be placed a bronze plaque commemorating the event.

Following the dedication, the nation's First Lady and her party will proceed to Hearst Castle at San Simeon where Governor and Mrs. Brown will be hosts at an official reception in her honor.

Fred Wermuth

News has been received of the death of Fred A. Wermuth, a former resident of Carmel for many years, who died September 1 in Los Angeles after a lengthy illness.

With his wife, Emma, he was the owner-operator of the F. A. Wermuth Transfer and Storage Company from 1919 until 1946, when they sold the company to retire. For a period during the 1920s, they also had the Railway Express and the Western Union agencies in Carmel.

Mr. Wermuth leaves a daughter, Mrs. Jean Poor; a granddaughter, Mrs. Charlotte Jarrett, and a great-granddaughter, all of Columbia; and a sister, Mrs. Ruby Anderson of St. Petersburg, Florida.

NOT HAVING THE PRIVILEGE OF A CLOSE PERSONAL FRIENDSHIP WITH PRESIDENT JOHNSON AND HIS LADY, we have not heard Lady Bird say just what she may be planning in addition to dedicating California's first Scenic Highway.

But, it would not be surprising if she stops at the Carmel Riviera and quickly buys one of those lovely homes with an unsurpassed ocean view. (Remember, she is an astute person in addition to being a lover of beauty.)

So, we suggest that before Lady Bird arrives you grab the chance to have first choice of two lovely three bedroom homes with all the beauty your eyes can behold for less than $60,000 each.

About a House which is Quietly Special;

Perhaps the Perfect Carmel Home

You notice the neighborhood first: Monte Verde, not far from town or the beach, with interesting, well kept homes. The weathered picket fence, covered with ivy, encloses the small, easily cared for yard. The door opens to a sweet brick-floored entry, and the quiet charm of the house immediately surrounds you, even as the house itself encloses a lovely little patio with a gnarled old oak tree offering its friendly branches to bird feeders and fuchsias and begonia baskets.

A gem of a living room, beautiful neutral carpeting and draperies over the window doors to the patio; wonderful fireplace. Paneling of that nice rough wood with white wiped in. A tiny dining room, also open to the patio. Very nice bedroom. Very nice bath. Delightful little kitchen.

And then, at the other end of the living room, a large study with floors of polished brick, a Franklin fireplace, another bath, and a stairway winding up to an adorable attic bedroom. This whole end of the house can be closed off as a separate unit if you wish, but we're hoping the buyer will be a writer or someone whose interests will require this extra special part of a home which provides an area conducive to work and a spare bedroom when needed.

This is a house with character—which is, after all, what we really mean by Carmel charm. The price is a reasonable $39,500. The exquisite furniture can be purchased complete, in addition.

NEITHER OLD NOR NEW . . . . . JUST RIGHT! Carmel charm plus an ideal location are but two of the many desirable features of this fine home. Pleasing contemporary rustic architecture finished in driftwood tones, a fine corner site south of Ocean Avenue three blocks from the beach, and a view are other important details. Three bedrooms (one for a study?), two baths, a separate diningroom with patio access, a compact kitchen and a spacious livingroom with interesting hearth and beamed ceiling . . . in fact, all rooms have redwood beams combined with smooth plaster walls. All closets are unusually ample and the bedrooms have units of fine cabinetry. A minimum-care garden and secluded patio add to the desirability of this "quality" property.

CARMEL POINT HOME PLUS GUEST COTTAGE: Located a short distance from Scenic Drive within sound of the surf and with a view of the ocean, this property is suitable for a full-time or part-time occupancy. The main unit has three bedrooms, cheerful country kitchen with dining-corner, livingroom opening into sunroom, two-car garage with storage areas and colorful garden. The smaller unit, a two-room rear cottage, is useful as guest quarters, an income unit, or a studio. Recently painted exterior and central heating are other assets. Priced at $49,750.

MOST DESIRABLE AREA FOR VERY ATTRACTIVE HOME: Situated on tranquil Palou Avenue in a block of charming Carmel homes, this nearly-new residence represents those sought-after qualities that make an ideal home for a retired couple . . . minimum-care garden, sheltered entry-patio, heavy shake roof, lavish use of used brick, and curved aggregate walk are some of the exterior details. The interior offers two bedrooms, two baths, diningroom with storage units, completely-equipped tiled kitchen, and inviting livingroom with beamed ceiling, used brick hearth, and interesting mantel combined with bookshelves. Carpeting, draperies, inside shutters and kitchen units included in the price $44,500.

CARMEL VALLEY HOBBY FARM: Completely equipped for raising of pheasants and other game birds, this one-acre property provides a most comfortable two-bedroom home with ideal location . . . secluded yet easily accessible via a find road. With a few fruit trees, a well, some river frontage and several storage buildings, an owner will find this a most satisfactory homesite or weekend or "project" property $26,500.

EXCELLENT VALUES IN RANCHO RIO VISTA:

- NO. 1. Make an offer on a fine acre building site . . . owner has left the area and wants to cash out his equity. Terms available.
- NO. 2. Complete the building of a large family adobe home . . . owners have been transferred to another area and are offering their partially-finished home at a realistic price . . . $39,950.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

Now that both the stock and bond markets have started to go up the question is—Is this a short term rise in a longterm downward trend, or have we hit bottom?

If there were a clear answer to this question, the experts wouldn't be in such disagreement. So we are left with the possibility of a falling stock market until either the government or the natural forces of supply and demand solve the problems of upward spiral of interest rates; large number of potential strikes in 1967; higher taxes; continuing balance of payments problem; and the precarious position of the British pound.

These problems could lead to a squeeze on profits which could mean lower earnings per share which could mean lower dividends.

If this happens, how might the stock market act?

The pessimists or bears argue this way—Price earnings ratios have declined from over 20 times earnings to under 15 times, for example, stock earning $5 per share has gone down from 20 x $5 (100) to 15 x $5 (75) but will go much lower. This drop has been the first of three psychological stages. In this first phase stocks sell minus the hopes and expectations of recent high prices. These bears think the market is just entering the second phase of anticipation of a business recession. In the final phase stocks fall below known values. Many of these bears think stocks will be at a level more than 20% below present levels when the stock market reaches this final stage and they think it will take over a year to complete these three stages. They expect upward moves of 30% to 60% of each downward move.

Now I for one certainly hope these believers of trouble ahead are wrong. But folks, maybe this is a time to get your finances in shape so that if they are right it won't mean tragedy for you. One researcher who is long term optimistic feels you should have not more than 75% of your normal position in stocks, and the other 25% in cash.

(Hugh Hannon is with Irving Lundborg & Co. in Carmel.)

Oust Fire Chief

the payment of overtime to employees should be limited to unusual or emergency conditions, or used to increase the base salary of employees; (3) the degree to which one department head might undertake actions or investigations affecting other departments without consulting the other department head, the city administrator, or the city council; (4) the extent to which the council wished matters to be handled on an "administrative" level without any information being given to commissioners, the Mayor, or other councilmen; (5) the extent to which the city council wished all department heads to cooperate with the city administrator in the carrying out of his assigned duties.

Following receipt of the report, the council held a secret session last Wednesday then adjourned to last night. Last week, Mayor Stephen Grant stated he had not been authorized to make public matters discussed behind closed doors.

Yesterday, the five department heads met with the Mayor and the city's fire commissioner, Councilman Eben Whittlesey. Baker was among those present. The press was not invited.

Reportedly, the other five men expressed the opinion that in their experience department heads did not seek to mold Carmel to some outside set of standards but adjusted the operation of their departments to the mold of Carmel. They desired to know if this policy was not now favored by the council as they implied in the questions in their report.

During Baker's probationary term of less than a year as fire chief, he has been reprimanded by the council for his handling of fire department funds and recently was required to have all his purchase orders co-signed by the fire commissioner. He has made reports involving other city departments without first asking cooperation of the departments' heads or approval of the city council.

Last night, at the request of Fire Commissioner Eben Whittlesey, the council voted to allow members of the fire department to express opinions on the conduct of the department under Baker.

"These men who feel very strongly about the city's fire service are entitled to express themselves on problems of which we are all aware," he declared.

Councilman Gunnar Norberg then moved for a secret executive session. A reporter from a San Jose newspaper, on behalf of his employer, then invoked a clause of the Brown Act which would allow a public session, "on behalf of all those persons here and not here."

City Attorney William B. Burleigh affirmed the legality of the council's decision to hold a closed session and members of the fire department appeared singly before the council.

At the end of this period, at the request of the fire department members, they were allowed to speak publicly and unprecedented discussion of the fire chief and his administration followed led by Sidney Trevvett, chairman of volunteers. Others heard were Joe Nicholson, Tom Broadbent, Erik Jensen, Lee McGuckin, Alec Gibson, James W. Hundley, Don Leidig, John Hicks, Battalion Chief James Kelsey, Merle Murphy, Paul Artellan, Maurice Grimshaw and Dr. Russell Pratt.

Gibson and Pratt emphasized that the morale of the department is extremely low. Murphy stated the department was divided and "This man (Baker) is not capable. He is disrupting the city, attacking the city council and every city department."

The rest of the firemen supported Baker's conduct of the department and most of them emphasized that, for the first time, they were equipped with proper fire

Trustees Deal With Dropouts, Price Of Milk

The State of California requires that all unified school districts make provision for supplying continuation school for all eligible drop-out students. Our district is not large enough to have enough students, equipment and teaching space to produce an effective program, while Pacific Grove has a small but established program and could absorb ours. Such an agree-Dr. Harris Taylor, CUSD Superintendent, pointed out, represents not only a saving but offers a superior program. The prorated share of excess cost, estimated at $2,500, would be in addition to the basic aid funds for the students enrolled from Carmel.

Last year's Carmel drop-outs are now back in school or have left the district so there is no present problem. However, Dr. Taylor said, the district expects from four to 12, as previously. Even considering the cost of transporting pupils to Pacific Grove, a saving would be effected—ADA funds received last year were less than $600, whereas the cost was approximately $6,000.

The board authorized the district to proceed in conducting a feasibility study with the Carmel Arts Commission to determine if a mutually acceptable program can be developed whereby the district would co-sponsor a theatre workshop through the adult education school. The request of the arts commission proposes use of the Theatre-in-the-Ground under the Forest Theater stage, with an anticipated 20-35 adults participating.

After hearing from business manager Walter Hinton that the district stands to lose $1,000 on milk sales at the schools, the board agreed to increase the price, effective Monday, from five cents to six cents on the half-pint, and from five to seven cents on the third-quart. Rising food costs, plus a 10% drop in state support, were the reasons given for the increase. For the same reasons, vending machine items are up, decreasing the district's profit from this source.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB GARDEN TOUR

Members of the Carmel Woman's Club have been invited to view the garden of Mrs. Carl E. Rasmussen, at the northeast corner of Seventh and Guadalupe, on Monday from 2 to 4 p.m. In response to many requests from club members who have enjoyed the colorful displays from Mrs. Rasmussen's plantings which she has furnished to decorate the clubhouse during the past year, she has set the date for an "open house" tour of her garden.

SERVICE STATION ROBBERY

An estimated $800 in cash and checks was missing when Harry Glem opened his Mobil Service Station on the northeast corner of Seventh and San Carlos about 7:15 this morning. Carmel police surmise that the burglar or burglars had gained entry through a window in a rest room at the rear of the building. Also missing was a group of keys, one of which was used to open the safe.

Overlooked by the thief were the "pink" slips to four autos and a quarterly federal deposit slip for about $1,400, representing employer-employee payroll deductions. The burglar also overlooked, or dropped, a bank deposit containing $120 in cash and an unlisted amount of checks.
